POETRY

WHAT ARE YOU HERE FOR!

you've never made another have a happier time in life, you've never helped a brother through his struggle and his strile; strife;
you've never been a comfort to weary and the worn,
ill you tell us what you're here in this lovely land of morn!

If you've never made the pathway of some neighbor glow with sun. If you've never brought a bubble to some fellow heart with fun; if you've never cheered a tolier that you tried to help along.

Will you tell us what you're here for in this lovely land of song!

If you've never made a comrade feed
the world a sweeter place Because you lived within it and had served it with your grace;
If you've never heard a woman or s
little child proclaim
A blessing on your bounty—you're s poor hand at the game!
—Baltimore Sun.

FROM A SKYSCRAPER WINDOW.

As arid as the sand,
But on the flat roof of this one,
By no convention banned,
A modest family washing filets
And flaps amid the breeze;
Just sheets and towels, socks shirts, And homely things like these.

Who hangs it out I never know,
Who takes it in when dry,
It makes me smile to see the show,
But smiling brings a sigh,
I wonder is there any spot
Where you could ever roam,
Skyscrapers, palaces, what not,
You would not find a home!
—Maurice Morris, in New York S
